

The NOVA Institute for Public Service (IPS) is a department within the Liberal Arts Division of the Alexandria Campus of Northern Virginia Community College. IPS is dedicated to applying the resources of the College to provide opportunities for learning and public service that contribute to the growth of civic awareness and engagement within our community and the greater Washington, DC area.

NOVA | Northern Virginia
Community College

Alexandria Campus

3001 N Beauregard Street, Alexandria, VA

Northern Virginia Community College
NOVA Institute for Public Service

2013 VIRGINIA ELECTIONS

POST ELECTION CONFERENCE

One Day. Three Panels. Great Discussions.
November 7, 2013

Morning Program – AA-196, Bisdorf Building
Evening Program – AA-158, Bisdorf Building

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ 2013 Post Election Conference Schedule ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

9:30 a.m. Welcome & Introductions

Araceli Palomino, Assistant Professor of Communication Studies and Theatre Arts, NOVA Alexandria

9:35 a.m. National Implications of the Virginia Elections

How will the outcome of Virginia's gubernatorial election shape the 2014 midterms? Better yet, how will it affect the 2016 Presidential Election? Come hear from prominent Washington area political scientists and journalists as they discuss the likely impact of this year's elections on the balance of power in Washington.

MODERATOR

Dr. Jim McClellan, Dean of Liberal Arts, NOVA Alexandria

PANELISTS

Dr. John Sides, Associate Professor of Political Science, George Washington University

Ben Pershing, Staff Writer, Washington Post

Dr. Bob Guttman, Editor in Chief, transAtlantic Magazine

Dr. Jack Lechelt, Professor of Political Science, NOVA Alexandria

David B. Miller, Assistant Professor of Political Geography, NOVA Alexandria

11:00 a.m. Welcome & Introductions

Araceli Palomino, Assistant Professor of Communication Studies and Theatre Arts, NOVA Alexandria

Implications for the Future of Virginia

11:05 & 11:50 a.m.

State and Local Panels

The 2013 elections will have an important impact on the future of the Commonwealth of Virginia. What will that impact be in the short and long terms in a number of policy areas? What are the implications for future elections? Don't miss your chance to find out! These panels of political experts from the world of Virginia politics and government will be sure to address all of these matters and more so be sure to join us!

11:05 a.m. STATE

MODERATOR

Michael Pope, Northern Virginia Reporter, Connection Newspapers/WAMU Radio

PANELISTS

Speaker William J. Howell, VA House of Delegates

Senator Richard L. Saslaw, Democratic Leader, Senate of VA

11:50 a.m. LOCAL

MODERATOR

Michael Pope, Northern Virginia Reporter, Connection Newspapers/WAMU Radio

PANELISTS

Supervisor John C. Cook, Fairfax County Board of Supervisors

The Honorable J. Walter Tejada, Chairman, Arlington County Board

12:15 p.m. Conclusion of Morning Program

7:30 p.m. Welcome & Introductions

Linda Rodriguez, Coordinator, NOVA Institute for Public Service

7:35 p.m. Economic Implications of the Virginia Elections

How will this election affect employment opportunities in Virginia? What about small businesses? Whatever the turnout, the economy in Virginia will see some changes and all should be informed on what's to come. Join representatives from local businesses, chambers of commerce and higher education institutions for a discussion on the economic implications of the electoral outcome.

MODERATOR

Dr. Alka Gandhi, Professor of Economics, NOVA Alexandria

PANELISTS

Dong Xiang, Chairman, Asian American Chamber of Commerce

Michel Zajur, President, VA Hispanic Chamber of Commerce

John Long, President & CEO, Alexandria Chamber of Commerce

Dr. Josiah Baker, Associate Professor of Financial Economics, Methodist University

8:35 p.m. Conclusion of Evening Program